

Function Drinks

Everybody says they have the cure for the common hangover, but we'd yet to believe it. Until now. Dr. Alex Hughes, an orthopedic surgeon at UCLA, developed these five "city life-oriented" drinks packed with antioxidants that cool your thirst, protect your skin, boost memory, and ease sore joints. And "Urban Detox," the prickly pear and orange-flavored drink—with no caffeine or preservatives, can actually relieve headaches and nausea, and has an enzyme that can aid alcohol poisoning. Sounds like a great mixer for a martini (try that at your own risk). Dr. Hughes calls that a "Detoxitini." But definitely do try it the day following a three-martini night. About $3.50 a bottle, functiondrinks.com, Pink Dot

